

JEFFRIS IS CHOICE OF CONVENTION

WILL BE CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE TO OPPOSE LA FOLLETTE AT SEPT. BER PRIMARY.

IS MADE UNANIMOUS

Upon Motion of A. E. Matheson Conference Goes on Record for Unanimous Endorsement.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Madison, April 26.—M. G. Jeffris was unanimously nominated as candidate for the United States senate at the conservative republican convention in session here this afternoon. On the first formal ballot the vote stood as follows: Jeffris, 65; Whitehead, 24;

M. G. JEFFRIS

Hudnall, 11; McGovern, 1. Alexander E. Matheson, Janesville, then moved to make the endorsement unanimous which was carried. Mr. Jeffris is now addressing the convention.

Madison, April 26.—George H. West, Milwaukee, in the absence of State Chairman Alvin P. Kletzsch, called the afternoon session of the conservative republican convention to order at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. West took occasion to severely criticize Senator La Follette. He also suggested to the delegates that they choose a man who is able to make the voters of this state understand that the present blood-stained prosperity is abnormal; that without tariff protection, as soon as the great European conflict is over, products of industry will flood our markets in competition with our own, which will result in thousands of empty dinner pails and farming at a loss.

Fairchild's Address
Edward T. Fairchild, state senator, in addressing the republican state senatorial conference here this afternoon, said in part:
"We are met here commissioned to consider the endorsement of a candidate for United States senator. The conference whose agents we are, has taken a position declarative of our attitude toward national policies. It is for us to select a representative in the person of a candidate, who will present our case to the members of the republican party."

"In assuming the office of chairman of this meeting, I am not unmindful of years of strife and factional quarrels. I see men here who have been so much a part of the political movements that it would seem impossible for them to forget ancient differences and still we are met today—in these trying times—to do what we can to put the whole republican party in the service of the people."

"Whatever we do here, must be done in the light of present day events. Our acts and our utterances must square with our country's needs. We are not to revive old prejudices, but, as I suggested, to preserve our national credit to the tribunal whose verdict must be final. We intend to conduct a primary campaign, and so manage affairs that at the conclusion the result will be accepted by a united party."

"The present tariff has proved an object lesson. It has demonstrated that the consumer gets no benefit from free trade. One hundred million dollars of our national revenue have been literally thrown away, and the consumer is paying no less for everything he has to buy—such legislation cannot command public approval. It is every man's duty to demand for its revision so wide-spread and so strenuous that it must be regarded as not only a dominant political issue but an imperative business issue as well. We are in a situation not unlike that which existed at the close of the last democratic administration, and the interests affected are just as general. The words of McKinley uttered then fit the occasion."

Quotes From McKinley.
"Our industrial supremacy, our productive capacity, our business and commercial prosperity, our labor and its rewards, our national credit, our proud financial honor, and our splendid free citizenship, the birthright of every American, are involved in the pending campaign, and thus every home in the land is directly and intimately connected with the proper settlement of the great questions involved in this contest. Great are the issues at stake in the coming election, and each citizen earnestly desires the people for the right determination."
"Our purpose requires the endorsing of a candidate for United States senator who believes in republican doctrines, who will support republican policies, who can present to the people our beliefs, hopes and plans; who will lay before the people fully and fairly the facts and all the facts for their consideration and deliberate judgment; and in such a way that the fullest understanding of the vital questions involved, may be had; so that the judgment of our people may dictate the policy to that the verdict announced by the ballot in the primary may leave no one uncertain as to

Bernstorff Cables Suggestion For Course In Subsea Crisis

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, April 26.—Count Von Bernstorff, German ambassador, in response to a request from the Berlin foreign office, has cabled suggestion for a course in the submarine crisis, which he believes will avert a break with the United States. The ambassador also sent by wireless, a message to his government asking no action be taken until his cable message had been received. The request from the foreign office for the ambassador's suggestion contains the statement that Germany was prepared to go to great lengths to prevent a rupture of the relations with the United States.

It is reported that Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor took with him when he left Berlin last night, when he visited the emperor at Grand Headquarters, dispatches containing recommendation of the ambassador.

Expect Answer Saturday.
Berlin, April 26.—The German answer to the American note may not be expected before the end of the present week. It may be presented on Saturday.

It is reported that Emperor William has left headquarters at the front to hasten to Berlin, where he will confer with Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg and Foreign Minister Von Jagow.

The reply to be made to the United States on the submarine crisis.

Take Serious Attitude.
Geneva, Switzerland, April 26.—German newspapers are now taking a more serious view of the German-American situation. They report that Emperor William is expected to return to Berlin from general headquarters. In the meantime Americans attempting to leave Germany by way of Switzerland.

to the attitude of the rank and file of the republican party on national questions.

Janesville Men Active.
All was in readiness this morning for the convention of 110 conservative republicans who are to consider the United States senatorial situation this afternoon. Supporters of both M. G. Jeffris and John M. Whitehead, both of Janesville, and both senatorial aspirants, were on the ground last night doing all possible for their choice. The plan is to select one candidate who will oppose Senator Robert M. La Follette for the republican nomination in the September primaries.

The convention was called to order in the assembly chamber this afternoon at 2 o'clock by George H. West of Milwaukee. It was stated this morning that A. P. Kletzsch of Milwaukee, chairman of the republican state central committee, would address the present to call the meeting to order. Most of the delegates visited the executive office today for a talk with Governor Philip. It is claimed that the governor is taking no sides in the situation. There are some here today who claim that Jeffris will obtain the executive chair, but the friends of Senator Whitehead claim that this is impossible and have a list of votes which would apparently disprove the other claim.

Jeffris supporters were the first on the field. The Jeffris men began to arrive early Tuesday afternoon and it was not until the first of Wednesday last night that the Whitehead men appeared. It was first suggested that a platform might be adopted at this convention, but this rumor is generally discredited. It was passed calling attention to Senator La Follette's frequent absences from Washington.

ENGLAND UPHOLDS HIGH SEAS POLICY IN REPLY TO U. S.

Insists That Allies Are Exerting Every Effort to Facilitate Neutral Trade.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., April 26.—The latest British note to the United States, protesting against allied interference with neutral trade, made public Tuesday night at the state department, is a "judicial" and "valid" and that the relief which neutrals seek is rather to be obtained by the mitigation of necessary hardships than by the application of either in the theory or application of the policy based upon admitted principles of international law carefully adjusted to the demands of modern warfare.

It claims that the policy of the allied committee "has been appointed to find ways to minimize delays and to find ways to make their return to neutrals as possible."

France Approves Note.
The note, in which the French government concurs, reiterates the military necessity of regulating commerce with neutrals contiguous to Germany and justified the efforts to make the blockade which was challenged by the last American note.

At the outset the note suggests that the American complaint is not so much that the shipping of modern steamships were intended for use in the European neutral country to which they were dispatched, as that the dispatch of modern steamships to Germany has been frustrated by methods not hitherto employed by belligerents.

"It would seem," says the note, "to be a fair reply to such a contention that new devices for detaching goods to the enemy must be met by new methods of applying the fundamental and acknowledged principles of right to intercept such trade."

Searches for Seizure.
At some length the note argues the impossibility of making searches at sea for various reasons, among which are the size of modern steamships and the manner in which contraband has been concealed.

The difference between the British and German procedure, it is stated, "that we cannot permit the way which causes the least discomfort to neutrals. Instead of sinking neutral ships engaged in trade, as the Germans have done in various cases, in direct contravention of their own prize regulations, we examine them, giving as little inconvenience as modern naval conditions will allow, sending them into port only when this becomes necessary."

Misuse of Passports.
The note adds that a further reason for bringing ships into harbor is the necessity for close examination of all suspected persons which has been made necessary by the "German practice of misusing United States passports to procure safe conduct for military persons and agents."

At great length the note discusses the question of proofs of the destination of contraband.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GOD'S PROGRESS LAW

MEMBER OF BOARD OF LECTURESHIP OF CHURCH IN LECTURE HERE ON LAST EVENING.

PRAY TO UNDERSTAND

One Must Know of and to Whom He Prays Before Good of Teachings Can Be Realized Beneficially.

John W. Doolley, C. S. B., a member of the board of lecturership of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., addressed Janesville Christian Scientists last evening at their edifice. Mr. Doolley's address was entitled, "The Prayer of Understanding the Message of Christian Science." In part it was as follows:

"Progress is recognized to be the law of God in all things, and Christian Science has come in obedience to this law, not to reveal a new God but to bring to humanity a fuller sense of that one and only God 'whom to know aright is life eternal.' (Science and Health, Pref., p. vii.) The message of Christian Science is always loving, compassionate, and tolerant, and recognizes clearly the right of every man to decide what is best for his own health and happiness, both in the matter of medicine and also of religion.

"Christian Science, however, does declare in no uncertain way that there is but one God and one Christ, and that a correct scientific and demonstrable understanding of the relation of only God and of the divine Christ is essential to the permanent health, happiness and salvation of every individual.

"Christian Science therefore demands from those who would accept its ministrations that they should understand God and His relationship to this creation, and His laws governing this relationship, that they should be able under all circumstances to understand this knowledge, to prove His presence and power, and His infinite ability to preserve them intact from every form of evil. This is the Christian Science teaching, and all Christian religious should readily concede, can only be accomplished through prayer; but there are many human opinions.

"The question therefore arises: What is the nature of the prayer of Christian Science, and wherein does it differ from the ordinary religious acceptance of prayer; and, primarily, does it agree with prayer as understood and practiced by those men of old whose perception of true prayer has been based on religious teachings? Also, does it agree with the prayer of Christ Jesus the 'Righteous One'?

"To pray right it is evident that we must first know God aright, for it would be useless to pray to something that we did not understand.

"The keynote of Christian Science teaching truly is its demonstrable explanations about God, since all that can ever be accomplished for the good of mankind must be a result of knowing the one infinite God. God must be Mind, for if He were not Mind He would be non-intelligent or mindless, and since there is but one God, there can be in reality but one Mind.

"As there is but one God or cause, this cause must necessarily be omnipotence, that is all presence, omnipotence, that is all power; and omnipotence, for if the one and only cause were not omnipotence, only omnipotence an omnipotence, then there would be a time when being would be without presence, power, or knowledge, and would be non-existent.

"Thus Christian Science declares that God, or cause, is omnipotence, omnipotence and omnipotence, and is also infinite Mind; hence we arrive at the conclusion that infinite mind is omnipotence; omnipotence and omnipotence. Now what is infinite Mind? It is not that which thinks, or expresses itself, as there is but one Mind, all true thought must be the expression of creation of this Mind; and what is equally vital is to press the quality or essence of this Mind, so all true thought must express presence, power, and Science and must express it infinitely. Hence, right thinking, or godlike thinking, is always with presence, power, and Science, or knowledge.

"Indeed, it is not until we perceive that God is Mind, and that every good thought is an expression of God and His very presence, or is Mind with us, that we really arrive at the inevitable conclusion of the nearness and dearness of infinite divine Love. This conclusion at once opens our eyes to the possibility and practical ability of seeing God, of Mind, face to face, here and now, through right thinking—through having that Mind which was also in Christ Jesus.

"Having understood God the creator aright, we are naturally in a position to declare what He created must necessarily be; for since God is infinite cause there can be no other creator and all creation must be the effect or expression of this one and only cause. Now, what kind of creation is it likely that such a cause as infinite good or infinite Mind either would or could create? It must be a mental object to every one who creates good could only create an infinite good creation, and as God is also infinite Mind, that creation must also be wholly mental. Therefore, Christian Science, in spite of the evidence of material sense, accepts unreservedly the fact that God's creation is in reality wholly good, and now and forever has been mental or spiritual, and always expressed high rightness, power, and knowledge of its creator.

"Well, some one may say, 'And how will this help me, and what about the creation we see all around us as material objects?' Here I must remind you again that Christian Science teaches, in complete accordance with the Scriptures, that a knowledge of what is true alone can help mankind permanently, and also that to arrive at a perception of what is true it is necessary not to look at the things which are seen by the physical senses, for the things which are seen by these senses are temporal; but the things which are not seen, for the things which are not seen are eternal; that is, are spiritual and indestructible, and therefore all important. In fact, Christian Science teaches that to understand God and spiritual being one must rely wholly on right thinking or spiritual sense, and never on physical sense-testimony.

"The prayer of a Christian Scientist is not a special effort at a special time but is 'without ceasing.' It is his right thinking and acting every minute of his life, his unceasing recognition of one infinite creator, the divine Mind, and of one infinite creation, the perfect ideas of creations of that Mind.

"To any one who doubts the reality of such prayer and its ability to heal and to save, I would only say: 'Just try it.' When you are overwhelmed by distress or sorrow, fear or sin, sickness or poverty, simply turn in thought constantly and unceasingly away from this mortal picture of what God has not made, and know persistently and faithfully the ever-presence and all-power of infinite good, and see if that knowledge does not relieve you of your trouble. See if divine Love does not come nearer to you in response to such a prayer, delivering you from every evil.

"If this knowledge of divine Love and of how to demonstrate this law that Christian Scientists are constantly seeking to bring to the notice of fellow men in the hope that they too may be relieved of their burdens even as we have been.

"It is not yet possible to measure in full the effect of Mrs. Eddy's teachings upon the systems of today, but being so long in becoming known, that she revealed God to humanity in a fuller and more practical sense, and thus taught mankind to cease praying for things, and to pray 'with signs following.' Tomorrow humanity will render in a fuller measure than today its appreciation of the Christliness of this much beloved woman."

GIVES SAM COOLEY STATE BOARD TERM

Court Suspends Sentence on Defendant, Placing Him Under State Board of Control.

This morning Sam Cooley was given his last chance to escape going to the state's prison, when Judge H. L. Maxfield imposed sentence on the defendant after he had been convicted of violating his commitment law parole by a jury on Monday afternoon. It was expected somewhat that Cooley would draw a prison term, for such a penalty has been imposed on other violators whose records are more favorable than that of Cooley.

After sentencing Cooley to one year in state's prison, the court suspended the sentence and placed the defendant in charge of the state board of control. The punishment is similar to the commitment law, except that Cooley is directly under the state board, and if he violates his parole, he can be placed in the penitentiary to serve a full year, even though the violation be committed on the last day of his suspended sentence.

HORSE CREATES EXCITEMENT ON WEST MILWAUKEE STREET

A livery horse hired by a traveling man became excited this morning and started on a wild run from the Hotel London down Milwaukee street. The horse narrowly missed a street car and near the corner of Main street swerved to the left, attempting to mount to the sidewalk and plunge between the front of the Ziegler store and the light standard on the corner. The animal fell when the buggy struck the high curb, a wheel of the vehicle was broken, but aside from a few slight cuts the horse was apparently unhurt. A heavy weight attached by strap to the bit failed to stop the animal from running.

LETTER ON JOURNEY FOR SIXTEEN YEARS

Letter on journey.
From Fossom of Town of Newark
Finally Receives Communication After Long Wait.
(Special to the Gazette.)

Orfordville, April 26.—A letter mailed sixteen years ago, arrived last week at its destination less than three hundred miles from its starting point.

In 1900 N. C. Fossom passed away at his home in the town of Newark. Relatives from Iowa came to attend the funeral and upon their return they dispatched a letter to Fremont Fossom, a son, telling of their safe arrival home and of other matters of that date. The letter never arrived.

Last week, however, it did come, a rural carrier from Brookfield, Wis., where Mr. Fossom now gets his mail, leaving it. It bore a railway postoffice cancellation dated 1900 and was addressed to Orfordville. Both envelope and writing paper are colored with age but show little sign of travel.

It is Mr. Fossom's impression that someone evidently called at Orfordville for his mail, at that time he remailed it at the time, and forgot or covered perhaps recalled the incident of sixteen years ago and it was dropped in a box at Brookfield for delivery to its consignee.

A Helpful
Confession

Mrs. B. writes: "Had suffered for years with stomach disorder. Could not eat without great distress, lost weight and was run down. Feared it was ulcerated stomach."

"Fortunately I secured a sample of HEMO, which seemed to satisfy my hunger, and was retained without distress. I immediately bought a package and started to take it regularly. I continued to take it once a day and improved steadily. After one year I have gained 33 pounds of good solid flesh and can eat any food with no distress. I can recommend HEMO to all sufferers from stomach or digestive disorders."

Makes a delicious food drink by simply adding water.

Consistency

YOU want a motor car that will serve you consistently. You want to know that your car can be relied upon day in and day out. You want high mileage per gallon of gasoline and freedom from repairs and readjustments. And you want these things, not occasionally, but continuously—day after day.

On these qualities the Maxwell has made good. It has proved its worth. When the Maxwell stock touring car set the World's Motor Non-Stop Mileage Record a short time ago it travelled for 44 consecutive days and nights and its performance was consistent.

It went about 500 miles each and every day. It went within a small fraction of 22 miles to every gallon of gasoline. It went the whole distance of 22,000 miles—probably further than you would travel in two years—without any repairs or readjustments. Every one of eight tires (two sets) went just about 9,800 miles and the others finished in good shape. For consistency and reliability this record far exceeds anything we ever heard of.

You can get a Maxwell, an exact duplicate of the record breaking stock car, on the partial payment plan we have perfected. All you have to do is to make the initial payment, then take the car and pay the balance as you ride. The unusual value of the Maxwell, together with our easy payment plan of purchase, is bound to dispose of our allotment of cars very quickly. Better make your reservation now, delivery later if you prefer.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Clarkson Heritage, Milton, Wis.
Amelia Coon, daughter of De Witt and Emma Coon, was born at Brookfield, N. Y., April 4, 1852, and died April 25, 1916. Of the five children in that family, her own brother and own brother-in-law, Edwin Coon, resides at Janesville, N. Y. She was married to Mr. Clarkson Heritage, a native of New York, and her half sister, Leonardville, N. Y. She was married to the younger group of three, and had much responsibility at home. She had a common school and academy education, but had to stay out of school to care for her mother when she was about sixteen. During her busy life she had spent much time in caring for others. When left to provide for herself and her two-year-old daughter, she took up the occupation of nursing. She spent several years at Milton in this service. The most of her life was passed at Brookfield, a few years ago. On March 15, 1905, she was married to Clarkson Heritage and since then had made her home in Milton. Besides her husband, brother and sister, she leaves four grandchildren, the children of her only daughter, by a former marriage, Mrs. Lucius Burdick, of Leonardville. Since the death of this mother five years ago, one of the children, Relda, has been with her grandparents.

She enjoyed a life of comparative comfort in her Milton home until stricken with disease over a year ago. For fifteen months it has been a long fight against the advancing enemy of physical health. Her vision was impaired, she lost her weight, and has suffered much. She has been one of the most patient ones, however, and very appreciative of kindness and love.

She was baptized when a girl and became a member of the Brookfield S. D. B. church. For the past eleven years she has been in the fellowship of the S. D. B. church. She was a regular attendant at the prayer meetings as long as health permitted. After she was shut in she was a loyal member of the Sabbath School. Home prayer was a great comfort and stay to her. She had always sought the association of those who were high-minded, pure and unselfish. One who knew her best of all says:

"I do not believe the thought of doing wrong ever entered her head. She always wanted to know what her duty was, that she might do it."

A very simple service, in accordance with her wish, was held at the home Tuesday afternoon. Pastor Randolph's text was Rev. 5:11-12. The eulogy was in her heart, for the Savior in whom she trusted. As for her, she was content to be one of the "ten thousand times ten thousand" and thousands of thousands. She was willing to be herself out of sight, if she might join in the praise; to be unheeded and unused, if she could but be granted the opportunity to worship and to serve. Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints. The Saviour said that one soul was worth more than all the wealth of the world. The casket was laid in the village cemetery beneath beautiful flowers.

Montenegrin Caps Speak.

The Montenegrins carry on their caps a reminder of the history of their race, in the shape of a deep black border surrounded with five semicircles of gold. The black border is symbolic of mourning for the fatal battle of Kosovo, which shattered the Serbian empire, while the five lines signify the five centuries which have elapsed since that event, and stand also as a sign of hope that one day the glories of the old Serbian empire will be restored.—London Globe.

THE ROOSEVELT BOOM. Gradually the demand that Theodore Roosevelt be the choice of the presidential republican convention for the presidential nomination when it meets in June, is growing the country over. Press comments in leading newspapers, many of them former bitter opponents to the ex-president and strenuous colonel, all demonstrate the Roosevelt sentiment is growing so rapidly that it bids fair to dominate the coming convention.

The country needs a strong, virile man at the head of affairs. It must have as president a man to whom the whole world can look up to and not one who says one thing one day and another the next. It is swayed by this sentiment or that bit of whispered advice and is theoretical rather than practical in all its national policies.

The Mexican situation grows apace. The European war is not merely one of sinking ships with non-combatants on board. The tariff problem is one that can not be passed over lightly. The dilatory tactics of our politics has no place in modern day efficiency and the spoilsman are not needed to run a government as it should be conducted.

Roosevelt is strenuous. Roosevelt is impetuous. Roosevelt talks a great deal but when you come right down to it his strenuousness, his impetuosity, his talk all bring results and commend the situation to even foreign powers who are battling for their life on bloody fields of battle.

When this European war is over there will be new problems to confront this government and we need a strong, virile man's man in the White House to meet them. Theory is one thing, but practice is another and it is far better to be practical than the idealist who comes down to handling the business of a nation such as the United States.

It is for reasons of this nature that the sentiment of this country is turning towards Roosevelt. Everyone knows what to expect from him and know that he does not shift his opinions as a weather-vane flutters around in a breeze. Conditions demand a Roosevelt in the White House and the possibilities he will be the nominee of the republicans at the next election increases.

WORTH CONSIDERING. This is an age of tourists and touring. People keep their eyes open as they pass through towns, anxious to see what refinement and civic spirit they can find. A town that beautifies its public streets and that has attractive residence grounds draws interest from all over a state.

Towns ought to take the greatest pains to beautify the streets through which this stream of motor travel is passing, also to clear up neighborhoods through which railroad tracks run. When motorists find dilapidated buildings, ill-kept grounds, stables decorated with circus posters, etc., they carry away a disagreeable impression.

The view from the railroad car is usually one of tumbled down chicken coops, piles of ashes and rubbish. Property-owners pay no attention to the fact that the strangers that pass by won't know who it is that keeps such a looking place. All the same, they know the name of the town.

Many towns, realizing the importance of the effect produced on travelers, take pains to make little park spots near railroad stations and along main streets. It is astonishing what a change can be made in a dingy square by planting a few trees and shrubs.

Every town should have a committee to look especially after the appearance of these arteries of travel. The owners of property abutting on them should be urged to co-operate in a general clean-up and beautification movement. If a railroad won't clean the rubbish out of its right of way, the townspeople could better afford to do it themselves than to let it remain. If a screen of trees could be planted along the back yards adjoining railroad tracks, the traveler in a few years would get a wholly different impression of the place.

CLEAN-UP DAYS.

It is the duty of every citizen of Janesville to do their share on the days designated as Clean-up days by Mayor Fathers. Yards can be raked, lawns platted, vines planted, flower beds arranged, gutters cleaned, streets swept and the refuse that always accumulates in vacant lots and back yards done away with.

Clean up and swat the flies. Do away with these pests early in the season and they will not be as dangerous and obnoxious later on. Screen your windows to keep them out of the houses, but first of all clean up their breeding places by doing away with the garbage and rubbish on the days designated as clean-up days.

Let Janesville be the "spotless town of renown." Clean up and then keep it clean and note the results. People work better, sleep better, eat better if conditions that surround them are neat and clean. They are healthier and enjoy life, so for general interests this should not be neglected and every effort made to clean up and keep clean.

"SAVING MISSOURI." Returns from the municipal elections in Missouri demonstrate how sincere were the walls of Speaker Clark and Senator Jim Reed about the necessity of sending the democratic convention to St. Louis to save the state and re-elect Reed. The convention was sent to St. Louis and St. Louis was saved.

Russia appears to be gradually disproving the idea that the Russian Bear has been asleep all during this war. It is now ready to send a few hundred thousand or so troops to the French front if they are needed.

'Twas in an English recruiting station at the beginning of the war. Sergeant Mullits was examining officer, after ascertaining that the applicant measured 6 feet 4 inches in height, asked, "Can you tell me the habitat of the long-eared climpus?"

"Northeastern Mesopotamia," replied the patriot promptly.

"What are the principal exports of Helgoland?"

"Corn, sugar, dogfish biscuits and sturgeon gills."

"Correct." Sergeant Mullits made a note of the fact that the applicant's heart was perfect, his biceps five inches larger than normal and his chest expansion eleven inches, before he put the next question: "What birds have the greatest endurance in flying?"

"The Brazilian fiddle and the common skunk."

"Wrong. You're rejected."

"I was in the same recruiting station thirteen months later. Sergeant Mullits made a note of the fact that the applicant had two legs and two arms, and then asked, "How did you lose all these fingers?"

"Running a saw mill in an aeroplane," explained the applicant.

"Accepted," said Sergeant Mullits.

THOMAS TAGGART WILL BE FORWARDED TO ACCEPT NOMINATION FOR SENATE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Indianapolis, April 26.—Thomas Taggart, United States senator by appointment, will be forced to accept the nomination for that office today if the demand of delegates to the democratic style convention gathered here today is effect.

If Senator Taggart accepts the nomination, Indiana will present the spectacle of the democratic organization, running against the republican whip, under Joe Cannon's regime.

The question whether Taggart would accept overshadowed everything else as the convention assembled. The general opinion was that he would, though he had repeatedly said he does not want the nomination.

Candidates for places on the state ticket and the Washington delegation say Taggart's organizing ability is needed. They do not overlook the fact that Taggart is wealthy. He is the wealthiest man who ever represented Indiana in the United States senate.

Should Taggart let it be known that he absolutely will not accept the nomination, Governor Samuel M. Ralston, who appointed Taggart to fill the unexpired term left by the death of Senator Benjamin F. Shively, would be the leading candidate. Taggart and Ralston both have adopted the "let George do it" attitude as regards each other and the candidacy.

Indications were that the convention would follow the lead of the republican state convention and become a "love feast" with the losing candidates insisting that the winners become the unanimous choice.

Senator John W. Kern is the candidate to succeed himself for the long term senatorship against Harry S. New, the republican candidate, John A. M. Adair, present congressman from the eighth Indiana district, will oppose James P. Goodrich, republican candidate, for governor.

Taggart was said to spring from a dislike for the duties of a senator.

NEED OF CLEAN-UP TO PROTECT HEALTH

City Health Officer Gives Statement Urging Disease Preventive Action On Clean-up Days.

By Dr. S. B. Buckmaster. We wish to again call the attention of citizens to the necessity of thoroughly cleaning up about their premises for the protection of themselves and their families as well as their neighbors and the city in general.

This is especially true as regards manure piles, garbage or any decaying animal or vegetable matter. It is in such filth as this that flies breed, and as disease carriers they may scatter disease from a single focus to all parts of the city.

Most people are careless regarding this but some are thoughtful or negligent and may thus be the cause of widespread disease, suffering and sorrow.

Let all look after their own premises and sickness may be greatly diminished. The "swatting" of one fly now and the early precautions to prevent their breeding in the spring, means millions less of disease-carriers in the summer and fall, so please do all you can in this work of prevention.

Many cases of contagious disease have occurred during this winter, fortunately without any deaths, and the number of these cases is rapidly decreasing, but houses where such cases have occurred should be thoroughly aired and cleansed, even though they may have been fumigated, as this alone does not always prevent a recurrence of disease; thorough cleaning and airing out does greatly. Cleanliness, fresh air and sunlight are destroyers of disease germs, and prevent sickness.

It is hoped that all those who read this will also help to make our city cleaner, healthier and more attractive.

CLIPS ON MAIL MATTER DISCOURAGED BY HEADS OF POSTOFFICE BUREAUS

Postmaster J. J. Cunningham has received official notice from Otto Praeger, second assistant postmaster general, to discourage the use of the little wire clips on circulars or other mails known as third class matter. The notice says that frequent complaints are received that pamphlets and other advertising matter containing return postcards, blotters, etc., fastened together with clips, and without wrapper, are found in the mails with the clips missing and the inclosure so scattered as to render it impossible to reassemble them, also that the clips are injurious to the stamp canceling machines. The bulletin states that the exclusion from the mails, without warning, of circulars fastened with clips would doubtless cause considerable annoyance and embarrassment to many patrons to the postal service who have such circulars in the course of preparation, but it is desired to say that the admission of such matter to the mails is not favored by the department.

TWO JAP AVIATORS WERE INJURED IN AN EXHIBITION

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Tokio, April 26.—Two naval aviators, Lieutenant Tongu and Lieutenant Abe were killed on March 20, when their hydroplane, which had been present at the opening of the Marine Exposition at Ueno Park, became disabled on its return and turning somersault crashed down through the roof of a Japanese house which it demolished. The two officers were buried in the wreckage and died soon afterwards. The accident occurred directly in front of the residence of Prince Higashi-Fushimi, who at the time was present at the dedication of the marine exhibition.

PROTEST AT EXPENSE OF BRICK PAVEMENT

FRANKLIN STREET PROPERTY OWNERS MAY CONSENT TO LAYING OF ASPHALT CONCRETE.

PLAN TRIP TO BELOIT

Committee of Property-owners Will Inspect Pavement at Line City Before Council Takes Action.

Property owners on South Franklin street, numbering about thirty, met last evening at the city hall, and denounce the plan of the council to pave the street from Milwaukee to Galena with brick on a macadam foundation. They were sincerely earnest in their protest, and the council changed the paving plan for this street because of the great financial expense that brick will cause them, but before the meeting was over and after explanations were made, all but a few realized the situation of the city officers and a majority of them agreed that some form of a permanent improvement is necessary on this street.

Mayor James A. Fathers named as an official committee J. D. Edwards, Leonard Lantz, Charles Curtis, to select several others who reside on the street with the view of inspecting the asphalt pavements at Beloit, Sunday afternoon. The proposed trip is to be made by automobile, and was the suggestion of Councilman Goodman and Mayor Fathers.

May Rescind Order. This will enable the property owners to see what the asphalt-concrete paving is like and whether it would be suited to the needs and demands on South Franklin street. Then it is possible that the property owners will meet early next week and prepare a petition to have the council rescind their order and cause new proceedings to be put through for asphalt-concrete.

The speakers at the meeting last night made it plain that brick pavement was too heavy a burden on the pocketbooks of the residents. Early in the meeting the delegation presented a demand that they be given a choice and it was some time before the board that to lay a macadam street, which was the most expensive in the long run. Brick, it was estimated in the long run, would cost about $1.90 per square yard. The property owners desired macadam, which would cost about eighty cents. However, the council has taken a stand, a firm one, that no macadam will be laid on this street, and the property owners' argument is that macadam is too expensive in the long run.

J. J. Dulin recommended an asphalt paving of some kind as a happy medium between macadam and brick, and was a poor investment, and the high priced brick. Charles Curtis, who circulated the macadam petition, stated that the people of the street desired a cheaper pavement and that the council realized that macadam was not really the proper paving to be put down. Dr. R. P. Fieber, Fred Burpee, William Koch, Mr. McManus, and several others gave statements of their views. Several of the citizens throughout the meeting demanded that macadam be laid on the street be repaired from the ward fund.

The real purpose of the meeting last night was for the consideration of the assessment schedule, as the session was made up of the board of public works, which is an advisory body, and has nothing to do with the final ordering of paving, this being a power vested entirely in the council. After no objections were made on the fairness of the assessment schedule, the meeting of the session was adjourned, and the council went into an informal session to hear other objections, so as to save the session specified for the paving of the street a further meeting.

Council Has Meeting. At the end of the meeting, the general opinion was that asphalt-concrete was the logical paving to be laid. Sheet asphalt of this quality is almost as expensive as brick without the foundation. Asphalt-concrete is a paving laid upon a concrete foundation with a flux top course, bound by a heavy layer of sand. It is practically noiseless, has a long life, bears heavy traffic, has a most pleasing appearance, and above all does not cost too much to maintain. Its cost is considerable less than sheet asphalt, and a conservative estimate being from $1.30 to $1.40 per square yard.

If the property owners unite on a petition for this pavement, the council promised last night to give it consideration, and it is believed that they will adhere to the desires and revoke the brick order. If such be the case, it will be some time before the petition can be laid out for bids and new hearings will be necessary.

At the two hearings held over the assessments to be laid on Oak, Madison and Forest Park boulevard no objections were made to the schedule in the afternoon. Previous to the hearing on the paving of the street, the council in about ten days' time to further consider the petition on these streets before bids are taken for the construction contract.

After the hearing of the board was adjourned the council went into session to consider the paving of the street. The council in about ten days' time to further consider the petition on these streets before bids are taken for the construction contract.

George M. Austin was granted permission to move a farm barn from the corner of River and Rock streets to Terrace and Ravine streets, with the rest specified in the paving contract. The barn is to be done under the supervision of Councilman Goodman.

Two bids were received for the construction of sidewalk on the corner of Madison and Forest Park boulevard. B. P. Crossman bid 69 cents a square yard and W. J. Hill 72 cents. The contract was not made, but left open for further consideration. Last evening the contract price was 68 cents a square yard.

son for $23, these being the highest bids. One dozen all-steel benches were ordered by the council to be used in the city parks.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS WILL COST COUNTY BIG TOTAL IN 1916

County Treasurer Livermore Gives Supervisors Estimate of Money Needed in Appropriation.

Rock county's board of supervisors this morning learned that the sum of five thousand dollars at least must be appropriated to care for mothers' pensions. At the present time the appropriation of one thousand dollars voted by the board in 1915 was being used at the rate of four hundred and thirty-eight dollars per month. There are now seventy-one children deriving benefit from the fund, and Treasurer Livermore, who has charge of the appropriation, informed the supervisors regarding the working of the law in the county, estimated that at the rate application have been made to date and with closest inquiry on the part of the courts, authorized to administer the aid, the number to be expected during the course of the eight months left in 1916 is about five thousand dollars must be voted.

This matter was made a special order of business for four o'clock this afternoon.

Petitions from a number of townships were received this morning, requesting the county pay its share, fifty per cent, in the erection of public buildings to be built by the respective towns. There were also several petitions for state aid and the proposed declaration of a number of roads of the county to form a part of the state system of highways so as to receive this aid.

Supervisor Moseley presented a communication from the good roads committee of the Janesville Commercial club, which was conducted by this committee among Rock county farmer boys. Discussion followed and town chairmen were called upon to tell the board of the results of the contest as conducted in their towns during 1915. Supervisor Snyder of Clinton reported that the boys had done good work on black dirt roads. They had built up a good crown and it was seen that the roads dragging caused the water to disappear better than ever before. The boys were paid at the rate of fifty cents per mile for the work.

Supervisor Bingham of Milton said the plan worked satisfactorily there. The town board advised the boys not to run up a bill of more than five dollars. The plan, offered by the good roads committee, however, proved the incentive to greater effort and the youngsters did a great deal of the work that they presented bills for.

Highway Commissioner C. E. Moore reported for the committee delegated at the November meeting to purchase the concrete block for the use of the county roads department. He reported that he had contracted for a machine similar to those used by the army in Mexico, on the four hundred mile column, to the American city of Columbus, New Mexico, to the American city of Villavieja, in the interior of the state.

Mr. Moore had the truck at the county house to show the board just what he had in mind.

The board acted favorably on a motion to close the county offices on Saturday afternoon during the months of July, August, and also voted to discontinue the county sympathy to Supervisor Dalton, who is ill at his home at Clinton.

Zubaydah Zourna, a young woman whose career as a globe-trotter has included appearances in music halls and theaters in practically every part of the world, will be seen as the chief dancing girl in the Annette Kellerman spectacle now nearing completion in Jamaica.

Miss Zourna comes naturally by her skill in depicting the wild, langorous dances of the desert, having been born at Beja, Tunis. Her father was of a tribe of wandering sheiks, and her early associates were people of the desert.

She was educated in Paris, became an artist's model there, and subsequently a stage and screen actress.

ERNEST TRUOX IN NEW COMEDY

"Artie, the Millionaire Kid," is a five-reel feature which gives splendid opportunities for Ernest Truox to indulge his talents for comedy. Truox was especially engaged for the production, and the young star is said to have done some of his best work therein. The story deals with the adventures of a youth who is turned out by his father when he is sent home from college in disgrace. Dot Kelly will play the leading feminine role in the film with a capable supporting cast.

A company accomplished rather an unusual undertaking when it secured permission to film the interior of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament at Hollywood, Cal., for a feature production. All the denominations are strict with the use of their churches, the Catholic more than any other being opposed to having the church used for outside purposes.

The report recently was spread that Cleo Madison, umpire of baseball game for the Yale alumni at the golden gate, but it is just being made known that she officiated in a bathing suit. Miss Cleo was on the beach, but not yet near the water—when asked to umpire. The game was played near the lapping waves.

My dear Mr. Seagrue:
I shall be at home today to my friends. There will be tennis and tea.

Seagrue Again Attempted to Interfere.

Helen regarded her friend intently. "Seagrue is going to pieces," Rhinelander went on. "I cannot tell you all I know; but I know enough to distress me very much. I want to help him for my sister's sake, to make a man of himself again, if he will be one. And for this reason—and to show his associates in his prosperous days that his own relatives are not going to turn him down—I want you, when your friends whom I have invited are here today, to invite him to come, also."

He saw the grave look on Helen's face. "I know that you don't like to do it. It's almost an impossibility to ask you to do it; but for my sake, Helen, I wish you would." He said no more, but left her alone. It certainly was rather a bitter thing for her. But she knew she owed more than that to her benefactor.

Rhinelander was quite right. Seagrue had been rapidly going to pieces. He was conferring that day with Ward and Adams, his servant, concerning their unsuccessful attempt to obtain possession of the Superstition mine. The slightest mishap to Seagrue's plans served now to infuriate him to a degree of anger such as he had never previously given way to. He upbraided both the men roundly and dismissed Ward with abuse. Hard-gain advantage and he decided at once that he would accept. He gave orders for the trip to Signal, resolving to drive out, and told Adams he was to accompany him. They left the room together a little later and getting into a new roadster, started for Signal.

Spike, in the meantime, had gone to the station and was talking to the agent when the local passenger pulled in and Storm got off, saw Spike and the two left for the house.

It was a delightful moment when Storm greeted Helen and Rhinelander under the old oaks. The young railroad man seemed bubbling over with happiness and Rhinelander, perceiving his great anxiety to segregate Helen for a little talk, summoned Spike and left the couple to themselves.

Storm led Helen to the shade of one of the big trees. "I was coming up today, anyway, Helen," he began, "even if I had not got your note. You know what I have been doing for two weeks—about five men's work."

"I know," returned Helen happily, "but the best of it is, you are equal to it."

"THE ROSARY" DRAWS LARGE AUDIENCES

Benefit of St. Patrick's Church is Well Attended.

The ladies of St. Patrick's church were very successful in their benefit at the Apollo yesterday when they presented "The Rosary" to four hundred houses. In addition to the picture, Ed. Leary sang "The Rosary" and Bob Dalley sang "Mother, Mother" and "My Mother's Rosary." The picture was adapted from the well known play by Edward E. Rose and tells the story of the many events which crowd the life of Father Kelly. In his early years his struggle between the love of a girl and the call of the church is shown, while late in life he becomes the pivot about which a domestic tragedy revolves. His ward, a young broker, unjustly suspects his wife of being false to him and Father Kelly, who is visiting them when they quarrel, is at last instrumental in uniting them and again bringing happiness into both their lives. The picture makes a beautiful character out of the priest, while Kathryn Williams and Wheeler Oakman portray the young couple in a way which makes their characters appear to really live. From start to finish the film teems with dramatic action and artistic treatment.

AT MYERS THEATRE.

Charlie Chaplin Public Idol.

There is no denying the fact that Charlie Chaplin is undoubtedly the most popular performer in the entire world today. Over in France the man in the trenches, even though they are fighting for their lives, find time to model small statuettes of their beloved comedian, and his every move, look, smile and gesture is known to them. Really, the hold Chaplin has on his public is remarkable when you consider that his millions of admirers have never heard him utter a word, or seen him in the actual flesh. Many people believe there is more than a grain of truth in the story that Chaplin, that is to say, they think that more than one man has been seen under this name in the movies at least.

This is caused by the conflicting claims of the various film companies, who at one time or another have claimed to have his exclusive services for picture making. In this connection the forthcoming engagement of "The Charlie Chaplin Revue," which comes to Myers theatre for three days, on April 27, 28 and 29 is interesting. A man who is billed as "He Charlie Chaplin" is the feature act with this vaudeville road show and his performance and appearance is so like that of Charlie Chaplin himself, that thousands of people who have seen him in Chicago, New York, Detroit, Boston and other cities, maintain he is really Chaplin and the fact that Charlie has not been seen in the movies for a long time now, makes the story. It is probably this element of doubt as to his identity which accounts for the unusual drawing power of "He Charlie Chaplin" and his company of entertainers.

AT MYERS THEATRE.

The farewell engagement of the popular comedy, "Peg O' My Heart," which comes to the Myers theatre Sunday, April 30, will be a theatrical event of exceptional interest, revealing as it does one of the most popular and successful comedies ever presented on the local stage. The fact that it is now in its third year in this country, its drawing powers show no sign of waning. In sending it on the present tour, the Famous Players-Lasky company has provided a corps of principals, which is said to give the best performance the play has ever had. Miss Florence Martin, who played the title role in Boston seven months ago and Philadelphia five months last season, has been declared by eastern critics to stand head and shoulders above any other artist that has essayed the role of "Peg," and will be sent here with practically the same company that supported her in the long eastern engagements. As for the play itself, little need be said, except perhaps, a brief sketch of the plot. The story concerns a little Irish girl brought up by her father in poverty and suddenly introduced into a family of aristocratic relatives in England. Her appearance and her high born relatives, and her unfamiliarity of ways of the aristocracy, leads to many humorous situations. The play is brimful of clever wit and humor, interwoven with a thread of love and affection. Mr. Morosco has mounted the production in a lavish manner, and the supporting cast includes Fred L. Tilden, Edmund Dabry, Madeline L. Bistrand, York Erskine, Lillian Kemble Cooper and John Pearson.

AT BEVERLY THEATRE.

"The Great Divide." The long heralded and much talked of photoplay version of America's greatest western play, "The Great Divide," has been completed by the Lubin company, and with Ethel Clayton, the popular Lubin player, and House Peters in the leading roles will be shown to patrons of the Beverly theatre on Friday for four performances.

In support of Miss Clayton and Mr. Peters is a most capable cast, among whom are Warner P. Richmond, Mary Moore of the famous family of photoplayers, Hayden Stevenson, Ferdinand O'Neil and Ray Chamberlain. Edgar Lewis, the new Lubin director, whose productions of photoplays with William Farnum as the star earned for him a reputation as probably the greatest producer of motion pictures now actively engaged in the work of art, is the director of "The Great Divide," while Anthony P. Kelly, the author of the photoplay sensation, "The Soul of a Woman," is responsible for the scenario adaptation of William Moody's writing.

Spirit of Mischief.

"You should never be cross." "I can't help it sometimes," replied the small boy. "I like to start an argument between father and mother as to which of them I take after."

CROWDS THROGG NEW PLAY HOUSE

Beverly Theatre Opens With Fine Performances of "Peggy"

The Beverly, Janesville's new and beautiful picture playhouse opened to the public yesterday after weeks of expectations. The public showed its appreciation by turning out in such numbers as necessitate a third show last night.

The first impression one receives from the entrance is an altogether harmonious and pleasing one. And as one proceeds up the long lobby the deep resonant tones of the pipe organ orchestra, swell and throb through the second doorway.

Here a symphony of delicate colorings greet the eye. The draperies are old rose and along the side walls are dainty ruby lights touching up the old ivory decorations with a soft glow refreshing to the eye. The lighting of the spacious auditorium is by means of semi-indirect light bowls equipped with dimmers.

Both the stage and the lobby are located but it does not remain long a puzzle. Down in front in the pit where an orchestra is usually found, behind more old rose draperies, sits the orchestra of Milwaukee, who have been engaged for the opening days, after which Mrs. Allen Rich will preside at the key board.

The marvelous instrument is a Wurlitzer and carries the pipe organ with large orchestra, and every effect necessary for the proper characterization of motion pictures. It puts life and emotion upon the screen and registers in sound every human appeal as it is expressed in the film, thereby giving naturalness and realism to the silent story that made the story of "Peggy" seem more real.

It is entirely under the control of one man, and operated by hand. It was purchased of the Rudolph Wurlitzer Co., of Milwaukee.

Good taste is manifested in the scenery, curtains and flowers on the stage but with the ringing up of the outer curtain, the picture play, "Peggy" drives all else from the mind and for a while the spectators sit enthralled with fascinating Billie Burke, though every once in a while one is tempted to steal another admiring glance about the beautiful house.

The tiresome waits between reels were not in evidence for two machines eliminate the pauses and allow the audience to keep in mind the continuous story.

Janesville's new theatre is very attractive and if pictures of "Peggy" can be shown regularly, it will be well patronized. The advertised offering for tonight is Ethel Clayton in "Dollars and the Woman" and for tomorrow Robert Edeson in "The Cave Man."

COLOSSAL NICHIREN IMAGE WILL BE HEWN FROM ROCK

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Tokio, April 25.—A colossal image of Nichiren, the founder of the Nichiren Buddhist sect, will be hewn in a great rock on the island of Ushigakubishima in the beautiful Inland Sea. The plan was originated by Iyuel Takami, a well known Buddhist, who has long wished to create a great monument to Nichiren, who founded his famous sect over six centuries ago. It has the active support of many prominent Japanese, including Admiral

Togo, the hero of the battle in the Sea of Japan. The rock stands 264 feet high and is of the purest granite throughout. When completed the statue will be 230 feet high. The hands alone will measure 26 feet. It will tower over the Inland Sea, and probably may be easily viewed by American travelers bound for the Orient on their way to Kobe and Shanghai.

If you have a rug, a couch or any other article of household furniture to get rid of, use a Gazette want ad. It will surely sell it.

Gathering Food for Bees. A clever scheme, that appears to have originated in Scotland, is to gather pollen from flowers with a vacuum cleaner for use as food for bees. The heather on wide stretches of moors provides ample supplies, and it is said that in some places the young bees were mostly reared on this pollen.

Some real bargains in real estate are printed each day in the Gazette want columns. Look them over.

FOODS THEY BUILD OR DESTROY

Amazing but rarely suspected truths about the things you eat.

By ALFRED W. McCANN. (Copyright, 1916, by Alfred W. McCann.)

CHAPTER 50.

Chief Engineer Ashmead of the Maderia-Mamora Railway Co. Found the Orange to be the Symbol of Life and Health. Knew Nothing About Calories, Acids, or Acid-Forming Foods, Base-Forming Foods or Mal-nutrition—Yes, in the Presence of Death, He Went to the Orange for His—His Experience Means Much to an Indifferent World.

Chief Engineer Ashmead of the Maderia-Mamora Railway company ate largely of white bread, washed potatoes and fresh meat obtained by slaughtering cattle in the morning. As a rule twice a day and after three times a day this diet of bread, biscuits, cakes, crackers, soups, stews, and potatoes constituted the bulk of his meals.

Reporting his experience to me he said: "I realized that I was not up to snuff, but could locate no particular cause for anxiety. I simply felt languid and uneasy. Then I began to observe among the men's tendency to stub their toes while walking along smooth roads. I noticed also that some of them complained of slight swelling by the ankles, which gradually extended upward to the knees. When this swelling was at its height a dent in the flesh, made by pressure from the finger, would remain a long time.

Shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart were the next symptoms. All of the men suffered serious heart trouble, after which they would begin to talk as if they had locomotor ataxia. As the disease advanced the swelling subsided and the limbs gradually wasted away, suggesting, prior to death, complete atrophy. Nothing remained but the bone and flesh.

"The twenty physicians with us gave the victims every conceivable kind of medicine. Nothing did them any good, and, prior to their death, they were completely prostrated and helpless.

"Some of the doctors said the disease was no beri-beri, because the men had consumed no rice, although the symptoms seemed to be peculiarly the same. Other doctors contended that it was beri-beri."

The doctors did not know that rice had nothing to do with beri-beri, that the beri-beri is only an accidental, oriental phrase by which bread starvation, in its last extremity, is described.

The fact that all mal-nutrition, anemia, or mineral starvation is accompanied by serious heart disturbance had not suggested to the twenty physicians in the Maderia-Mamora poison squad that by dying men could have been saved had the missing elements in their diet been supplied.

Having observed with morbid interest these symptoms among the sick and dying laborers, Chief Engineer Ashmead noticed with alarm, under circumstances that impressed at its details upon his mind, that he himself was becoming a victim.

The camp had lost a man in the jungle, which was as dense that, having penetrated it, one sense of direction was completely confused. Once lost it was a serious problem to find the way back to camp.

Ashmead participated in an extended search which failed. As night came on he gave orders to have the camp whistle blown at short intervals until morning, to give the sound might give the lost man some guide by which to direct his course through the brush.

During the search and while still fresh he climbed a little hill. When he reached the top he was out of breath. His heart was pounding. He was obliged to stop and rest.

That night when he removed his leggings he noticed that his ankles were slightly swollen. For three days he found it difficult to buckle the straps on his leggings. Then came the consciousness that he was losing his appetite for bread and desired to eat nothing.

He remembered also that for the first time in his life he had a craving for orange juice. He had never been fond of oranges until that time. He knew nothing of the fact that oranges are base-formers and that his oranges starved of bases, was clamoring for the elements necessary to life.

On the fourth and fifth day following the first appearance of the striking symptoms he observed that the swelling of his feet was at the ankles. The finger marks remained.

Laborers were dying around him everywhere. "Beri-beri is killing them," said the doctors.

"I have beri-beri too. I am not going to stay and die," he said.

He quit camp and returned to England and on the ship took no food but orange juice, which he consumed in large quantities. On a diet of little else his ailment disappeared within sixty days. For experience, enjoining a depressing sense of despondency for the following six months he was apparently none the worse for his close call.

Ashmead had no knowledge of the fact that oranges are base-formers. He did not know that the feeble organic acids of the orange juice are quickly oxidized in the body and the alkaline earthy salts or bases of the oranges are thus made available for the work which they are intended to perform in the economy of nutrition.

He did not know that the abstraction of calcium salts from the tissues, through the consumption of refined, demineralized, acid-forming foods, prepares them as fertile fields for the development of tuberculosis.

He did not know that nature can do this work only when food calcium is available in its proper forms.

He did not know that there was no calcium in the Maderia-Mamora Railway company poison squad diet. One of the suppressed facts in connection with the record of mal-nutrition among the laborers, was the scourge of tuberculosis which swept over the men who escaped "beri-beri."

Ashmead and Dose observed that as many men were lost through tuberculosis as through the disease which they called beri-beri.

So rapid was the progress of the disease that many of the men died of hemorrhage within three or four months following the appearance of the first symptoms of the disease.

TAKING PART IN HUNT FOR VILLA

Col. Herbert J. Slocum.

Col. Herbert J. Slocum, commander of the Thirtieth U. S. cavalry, is joining in the hunt for Villa.

"SPUD" MURPHY

If ever there was a man with a continual "grouch" it was "Spud" Murphy. He was always finding fault with something and if anything pleased him, instead of being satisfied, he would compare it with something else and begin to "grouch" as the boys said.

I first made his acquaintance on board a United States transport in Manila, where we "rookies" were waiting to be taken to the Philippines. He was known as the biggest "groucher" in the outfit. We finally reached Manila and were sent out on the line.

"Spud" as the boys called Murphy, myself and six more boys went to B company. We hadn't been there two days before "Spud" had a quarrel with a sergeant, and as a result "Spud" was docked from his pay to buy new flags for the United States. This taught "Spud" to be careful, but it didn't stop his growling.

He said the funniest things when he was mad. He never could see any funny side to them until the fellows would be splitting their sides laughing. Even then someone would have to show him a diagram of the joke.

It was he who dubbed the captain "Buller" and the "top" Jimmy Wrinkles, and what he didn't do to old Casey, the quartermaster, would be hard to discover. He made a song about old Casey and sung it to the tune "Tim Tootin'."

It was things like this that made "Spud" liked by his officers, for he had the knack of saying things when he was mad that put the rest of the company in good humor. One time I remember was on the Peking hike.

It was that awful day going into Matow. The fellows were nearly "all in" it wasn't a case of strength then—it was nerve only that held a fellow in the ranks. All the fellows were showing the strain and were snapping and barking at one another. It just seemed as if something must give way, when "Spud" was seen to forge ahead.

He cried out, mad as a wolf: "If this thing is going to be a six-day Madison square affair I'm going in to win!" Then as one man the company let out a yell and when the news traveled along the line it had the effect of brightening up the whole outfit. "Madison square" was a standing joke for a long time after that.

Well, finally it came around that "Spud" and I had but a short time to serve. Many was the roasting "Spud" gave me. He was sure that I would re-enlist. He would start at me this way: "Well, it's just two months now, Jack, and then back to God's country with me; but I suppose it doesn't matter to you, for you're going to 'take on' again and be a regular old army stiff like Wrinkles or Casey."

Then I'd give him an argument about the advantages of a fellow staying in the army and in a few minutes we would be yelling at each other until it looked as if we were going to fly at each other's throats.

The final day was at hand for "Spud." I had still a week to do. After "Spud" turned in his arms and accoutrements everybody waited for guard mount, after which "Spud" would report at headquarters and receive his "buzzard."

We all got as near headquarters as we dared, and as ours was a one-company post and our old captain was still in command we looked for a rare treat when "Spud" and old "Buller" should have it out together. Guard mount was finished and then "Spud" went over to headquarters with the gait of a peacock and all the company out to have a look at him. Well, he was in there about ten minutes and there was no explosion.

Then the door opened and "Spud" walked out, growing away for dear life. Seeing the "top" and old Casey standing at the orderly room door he headed straight for them, with all the company trailing after.

When he got in front of the "top" he shook his discharge papers in the "top's" face and shouted: "Is this the way to treat a man after he has been in every hike for three years?"

"Why, what's the matter, Murphy? I thought the captain was going to give you an excellent character. What more do you want?"

"That's all right, too, top," says Murphy, "but old 'Buller' doesn't want me in his blank company."

"How do you know?" chips in old Casey.

"Why, he told me so," yelled Murphy. "I tried to re-enlist and he told me I'd have to wait until tomorrow, as he couldn't do anything today, because I'm serving today on the old enlistment."

Then B company went mad and such cartwheels and hand springs you never saw before. Old Wrinkles couldn't do anything and only for old "Buller" coming over I think they'd be yelling yet.

"Spud" re-enlisted the next day.

How He Escaped.

The lawyer was examining him concerning his qualifications as a juror.

"Have you ever served on a jury?" he asked.

"No, sir," answered the man. "I've been drawn a good many times, but I was always too smart to get caught on a jury."

"What's that, sir?" interrupted the judge, sternly. "Do you boast of your smartness in escaping jury duty?"

"No, your honor," said the man. "Not at all. When I said I was too smart I meant that I was always excused because the lawyers thought I wasn't ignorant enough."

What Interested Him.

"Did Mr. Chuggins keep a notebook on his travels?" "Yes. But all he wrote in it was the number of blow-outs he had and the amounts of the fines he paid."—Washington Star.

CHICAGO TENNIS CLUB WILL BOOM THE SPORT

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Chicago, April 26.—A boom for tennis throughout this part of the country as well as in this city is seen in the announcement that the newly organized Chicago Tennis Club has purchased grounds in North Edgewater section of the city at a cost of $70,000 and will spend $30,000 on courts.

Efforts will be made to land several of the national meets. The new club includes such well known local men as Heath Byford, the president; Walter Hayes, Alex Squair and James J. Forsell, and its roster includes practically all the tournament players of the Chicago district.

The location of the new club's courts, near the Kenmore station of the Northwestern Railroad and not far from the Edgewater Golf Club, will insure, it is believed, a larger attendance than has been attracted to the western championships and national doubles preliminaries at Onwentsia, Lake Forest.

CENTRAL LEAGUE STARTS THEIR SCHEDULE TODAY

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE) Indianapolis, April 26.—Determined to reap some of the benefits of harmonized baseball, the Central League opened its season today in four cities.

Despite a disastrous season, financially, in 1915, the league presented its full quota of eight cities, although among them were three new faces.

Evansville, last year's champs; Terre Haute, Dayton, O., and Wheeling, W. Va., played host today to Muskegon, South Bend, Springfield, O., and Grand Rapids.

South Bend, Muskegon and Springfield displaced Fort Wayne, Erie and Youngstown in the league's roster. Evansville was the only club last year to make a profit. The league graduated from the six-city class in 1915. In 1914, with six clubs, there were five contenders for the pennant.

The Phils have shipped Outfielder Bud Weiser to the New London club of the Eastern league. Bud is not Weiser's real first name, but by handing it to him for a moniker his teammates showed their familiarity with and the fame of a well-known St. Louis product.

MORRIS MILLER

Herwood Brown of the New York Tribune is a somewhat daring prognosticator, baseballically speaking. His tip to "shrewd investor" is to wager that no regular outfielder of the New York Yankees will bat .300. This is supposed to mean that no one of them will bat as well as that. His next best bet is that Benny Kauff will hit below .290 and his third prediction is that Hans Lobert will not finish the season at third base for the New York Giants.

The St. Louis Cardinals have a young catcher who has been over-looked in doping the team, but he has friends at that. His name is Kelly and he was the star receiver on the printers' team from Indianapolis that won the championship cup offered by Gary Hermann. On the opening day in St. Louis a delegation of printers presented him with an immense bouquet of roses, each being big enough to fill his cap. Kelly has as much chance as anybody else to beat Frank Snyder out of his job.

The release by the Chicago Cubs of Pitcher Bill Dailey to Toledo surprised the dopists for two reasons. It was not thought that Charley Weeghman would do Roger Bresnahan any more favors and it was supposed, by Federal league boosters at any rate, that Dailey would be the mainstay of the Cubs' staff this year after the good work he did for Joe Tinker's Whites last season.

Though George Gibson, the Pirates' veteran backstop, missed much of the spring training because of the illness of his wife, which called him home, he appears to be in better shape than for several seasons. He has taken off weight and his calves are so slender he is said to really fear their reckless base runners may break them off.

The Fort Worth club is still cornering infield talent. Word comes from New Orleans that Larry Pezold has been secured from the Pelicans by Manager Jakey Atz.

Before the Texas league season opened President Morris decided to

E. Bedford, who has worked in the Canadian league and other circuits in that country.

Waco was hard up for a catcher when it landed Peters from Chattanooga. Toland hurt his hand before the season opened, leaving Rellly the only man available, as Smith did not show the class necessary for the Texas league.

Manager Syd Smith of the Shreveport Gassers announced before the season opened that he had set himself to catch every game this year. He caught the majority of games for his team after he took charge of it last year. From June 10 to Labor day he caught seventy-four games.

In the Texas league they have annual contests for the best opening day attendance. In the first set of openings Fort Worth led with an attendance of over 4,000. Beaumont and Galveston claim over 3,000 each, while Dallas, the big town, kicked in with a crowd of 1,500 to see Joe Gardner's pets beaten.

Manager Frank Chance of the Angels was fired on the field twice in one week in the Angels-Tigers series, the second time for thumbing his nose at Empire Red Field. In the National league, where Chance used to play, such a trick would cost him about ten days and then some, to say nothing of the cost of standing with the decent populace.

Art Griggs has been replaced as field captain of the Vernon Tigers and will be used in the game only against left-handed pitching. Swede Risberg being the regular first baseman. Ray Bates will act as captain of the Tigers. Vernon tried Catcher Moran and Purrell to Montreal for Griggs on the strength of his record in the Federal league.

PINE LAKE COURSE IS PREPARED FOR GOLFERS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Milwaukee, Wis., April 26.—The Pine Lake Golf course in Waukesha is being prepared for active service for Milwaukee enthusiasts who summer at the lake. There will be considerable work on all the holes, and the most important will be the building of a string of traps between 5 and 8, to catch sliced balls, the other holes are well protected by natural hazards.

"Let Us Meet and Counsel Together"

CLEAN UP DAY, MAY FIRST TO MAY THIRD

Clean-up Proclamation.
To the Citizens of Janesville: Greeting.

In accordance with usage and good custom, I hereby designate Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 1, 2 and 3, as "Clean Up and Fire Prevention Days." I would call the attention of our citizens and urge the necessity of all our people to remove and dispose of all the winter's accumulation of ashes, tin cans and other rubbish found in alleys and back yards; also inflammable and combustible materials wherever found in the premises, whether it be in cellar entrances, area-ways, basements, storerooms, closets, or in and around barns, sheds, etc.

Every citizen should feel it a duty and make an effort to clean up his property, both front and back yard, and paint the premises if necessary; in fact, to abolish all places that tend to breed flies, mosquitoes, and consequent contagion.

The above proclamation will become effective under the immediate supervision of Health Officer Dr. S. B. Buckmaster.

JAS. A. FATHERS, Mayor.

Clean Up Hints.

See that all rubbish is removed from your cellar, back yard and surroundings.

Don't forget to ventilate damp cellars. Clean all windows and keep them open to fresh air and sunlight. See that all leaky roofs and bad plumbing are repaired, and do not tolerate dirty, broken walls and ceilings.

Don't forget what plenty of soap, hot water and sunshine will do to assist you in cleaning up.

Do not forget the attic or any room in place where flies and germs breed.

Dry sweeping and dry dusting are dangerous practices. Use the damp broom, the oil mop, or oiled cloths.

Don't let old newspapers and all other household rubbish at least once each week.

Drain moisture from garbage before placing it in the garbage can. Provide yourself with proper garbage cans as required by your ordinance—covered can made of galvanized iron, not less than fifteen inches in diameter and two feet high. Put this can in a readily accessible place where the garbage collector can reach it.

Do not throw waste paper of any description on any public street, or park, nor in your own back yard.

Don't expectorate on any sidewalk, street or floor. It is a detestable habit, breeds disease, and is against the law.

Don't let milk bottles stand unwashed after use. Wash them at once and don't fail to rinse the bottles in cold water before reusing.

Don't let the stagnant pools and ill-smelling refuse breed flies, mosquitoes and flies, and consequent disease. Keep the loose manure in a covered barrel and have it carried away at least once each week.

It is somewhat surprising that many people prefer to wait until well along in April before commencing the clean-up work, because it has been their custom to do so.

Don't fly nuisance most effectively, it is essential to remove all facilities for breeding as early in the spring as possible, and that time is now at hand.

CLUB WOMEN ATTEND DISTRICT FEDERATION

Many housewives have given painstaking effort to their household duties this last week that they may have day or two off at the present time to attend the yearly event, the District Federation. This year, the Federation of the Ohio, the Monday Club, and the Woman's Club, all of Delavan, the meeting is held with them, April 25-26.

Two clubs with 33 delegates are on the lists. These, with visiting club women, bring up the attendance outside guests to nearly the number of 200. The Janesville ladies went to Beloit, where they met by the Beloit delegation and also others from some of the adjoining towns.

Reaching Delavan about one o'clock, in time for luncheon. The program was served by the Domestic Science department of the high school and proved a most enjoyable occasion.

The program was as follows: Music; invocation; Mrs. Reser, Delavan, address of welcome; Mrs. Dora Loomar, Delavan; response, Mrs. B. E. Nelson; address, Mrs. D. O. Kinsman; Whitewater; address from State Federation; short talks on "Care of Deficient Children"; (1) "Education and Care of the Blind," Mrs. J. Hooper, Janesville; (2) "Education and Care of the Deaf," Mrs. Walker, Delavan; (3) "Education and Care of the Feeble Minded," Mrs. George Chamberlin, Milwaukee. Dinner was served at six o'clock to the visiting club women at the Methodist church.

The evening program was arranged as follows: Concert, contributed (largely) by the "American Boy," Dr. Lester C. Randolph.

A warm welcome was given their guests by the club women of Delavan, and arrangements were made to entertain for the night all who could remain for the next program.

Wednesday's events included the president's address by Mrs. E. F. Woods, reports to the chairman of the different committees, and reports of the work of the different clubs in the district given by their delegates.

The following clubs from Janesville are members of the District Federation and were represented by delegates: The Art Club, the Philomathian Club, the O. E. S. Study Class, and also the Summer Club of Household Economics, which takes in ladies residing in Rock county.

D. A. R. MEETING.

(A paper read by Mrs. C. S. Atwood at the last meeting of Janesville Chapter D. A. R.)

The program of the program committee last summer, Mrs. E. C. Hall gave a very interesting bit of insight into what the medal that we give annually was doing for the pupils of the eighth grade. She spoke something like this:

The parents of a bright young boy in her grade felt that high school and higher education necessary and superfluous. When he won the medal given by the D. A. R. his parents changed their views. He was sent to high school and University of Wisconsin. From both he graduated with honor and now is successful in his chosen profession.

Feeling that many of us did not realize what an incentive for good work this medal has been, we asked Mrs. Hall to tell us at this time. As she could not be with us, she has written as follows:

In February, 1897, two years after the Janesville Chapter of the D. A. R. was organized, a committee, consisting of Mrs. C. S. Atwood, Mrs. J. Wright and Miss Pease, was appointed to make a frame and a portrait of George Washington, to be placed in the assembly room of the Janesville high school.

At this same meeting, plans were made to hold a "celebration" on April 19, of the anniversary of the Battle of Lexington, and also that cash prizes of $5 and $2 be offered eighth grade pupils of our public schools, for the two best essays on "The Battle of Lexington."

The essays to be read at the public entertainment to be held April 19th.

I quote from the Gazette, April 20th: The entertainment given by the Janesville Chapter D. A. R. in commemoration of the Battle of Lexington, April 19, 1775, marked the progress which the enlightened portion of our nation is making under the guidance and through the unceasing efforts of such patriotic societies as the D. A. R.

The prizes in this contest were won by Miss Lorene Crouse and Arthur Granger.

The next year, 1898, the prize of $3 was given Miss May Merritt for an essay on "The Life of George Washington." Previous to 1775.

In February, 1899, it was decided to give a medal, not to exceed $15 in price, for the best essay on La Fayette, heretofore. The entertainment, that year on April 15th, was an illustrated lecture given by Miss Elizabeth Allen on "The Evolution of the American Flag."

The lecture was followed by the reading of the prize essays. Miss Ida Stoddard captured the first prize, and a second, the society spoon, was presented to Fred Wilkerson.

In October, 1899, a motion was made and carried that the medal hereafter, be given to pupils in the eighth grades of our public schools, for highest standing in United States history, such standing to be arranged from the year's work, and on examinations. This method of awarding the D. A. R. medal has been followed since 1901.

The markings attained by the pupils were so close that Mr. Buell felt the efforts of those who failed to secure the highest standing, and for some years he furnished books as second and third prizes.

After a later year the Janesville Chapter has assumed the provision of all the prizes for excellence in United States history.

SHAKESPEARE'S BIRTHDAY.

The recognized date for this event is April 23 and this year marks the 390th anniversary of his death and is celebrated also as the birthday.

For this occasion many women's clubs and other societies are having special programs for this most important day.

In honor of this great occasion, programs from nearby clubs are given in the hope that they may prove interesting by comparison.

How a Chicago club celebrates Shakespeare's birthday:

The art and literature department of the Chicago Woman's club for the second time this year is to have an exhibition of its genius. This will be a program on Saturday morning, April 15, at 10:30 o'clock in the Fine Arts Club.

In commemoration of the birth of Shakespeare, the program will be composed of songs, poems, essays and histories of the poet written by members of the club.

The numbers have been chosen as the result of a competition which was opened in January, and all have been written for the occasion. They are, with their authors: Song, "Shades of Night," Mrs. John C. Shaffer; "The Understudy," Mrs. Joseph Redfern; "The Understudy," Mrs. Helen Bagg; "Shakespeare and the Foreigners," Mrs. Wilson G. Baker; "Look at Shakespeare," Mrs. Miss Florence Beckett; "Shakespeare and Music," Miss Mattie Summerfield, with Mrs. Hyde Wallace Perce at the spinet.

Other acts (a) "Footnote," (b) "Cinematograph," Mrs. Vibe K. Spence; "Shakespeare's Last Message," Mrs. Charles A. Goodnow.

The program will be concluded with a Shakespearean farce, planned by the chairman, Mrs. Vibe K. Spence, assisted by the pupils of Mrs. Wilson's school, under the direction of Miss Lucie Duncan Hall.

Following the program the department will have a luncheon in the club-rooms, the closing luncheon of the year. Flowers and wreaths used in Lincoln Park and placed on the Shakespeare statue, according to the custom of the club.

MEETING OF CITY FEDERATION.

A meeting of the board of directors and representatives of the different women's clubs of the city met at the City Hall on Monday afternoon.

The president, Mrs. S. M. Smith, presided, and the secretary, Mrs. Starr Atwood, was also present. The question of a location for a rest room was thoroughly discussed. A proposition for a new store not yet completed was presented by Mrs. J. R. Nichols, chairman of the committee from the Civic League. After discussion, the meeting voted to endorse the plan if the financial guarantee could be made possible.

This phase of the situation to present Twilight Club at their next meeting, if permission could be obtained to do so, and the committee was appointed for that purpose.

Committees were also appointed to begin work next week to see what could be raised toward financing the rest room proposition, and the downtown streets were blocked off by sections and volunteer ladies offered to canvass each district. Other plans in regard to a matron, furnishing luncheon, and the spring arrangement whereby babies could be taken care of on certain afternoons, were suggested and talked over. The meeting adjourned, subject to call by the president.

SHAKESPEARE DAY IS CELEBRATED BY WOMEN

The Federation of Women's Clubs of Edgerton celebrated Shakespearean day Saturday at the Clinton Memorial Hall. Mrs. H. Macdonald, the president, presided over the meeting. The program was opened with a solo by Miss Helen Coon. Roll call was then responded to by the members, who gave quotations from Shakespeare in response to their names. Mrs. Fred Sherman gave a paper, the subject of which was "Shakespeare Pertaining to Women." Mrs. Reser then announced and gave a sketch of the play "The Taming of the Shrew," and two acts of the play was presented by Misses Jessica North, Bessie Maininis and Gracie Clark. Miss Clara Jensen and Miss Grace Stafford then gave two acts of Shakespeare's play, "Caesar."

Mrs. Holt then gave a dance from "Midsummer Night's Dream," and was assisted by Mrs. V. N. Green and the piano. Mrs. Wamaker then sang "Who Is Sylvia," Mrs. P. N. Grubb gave a sketch of the Shakespearean play, "Henry the Fifth," and two acts were presented by Mrs. Farran, Mrs. Lamereaux and Mrs. Titus. Next Miss Florence Jack played two flute solos and was accompanied by Miss Helen Coon on the piano. The program was concluded by Mrs. Wamaker and Miss Coon, who sang a duet. About 300 were present.

Milwaukee colored girl writes play with Shakespearean characters. In commemoration of Shakespeare the young people of St. Mark's African Methodist Episcopal church will present a Shakespearean "Dream" at the church Friday evening. The play was written and directed by Mrs. Burgette and presents twenty leading Shakespearean characters in verse.

Miss Burgette is a Milwaukee girl, the first of her race to be graduated from the East Division high school, and has won considerable literary ability by her poetic and literary ability. In 1915 she was awarded a gold medal by the Board of Education, Knights of Pythias, for a poem which she dedicated to them. Ex-President Taft on a visit to this city complimented her on her progress and deemed it symbolic of the attainment of her race despite their many obstacles. Miss Burgette represented her race in the recent local examination for library assistant, and passed with an excellent rating. She is president of the Young Ladies' Culture circle. The "Shakespearean Dream" will be presented for the benefit of the African Methodist Episcopal church, which will be held at the church the second Sunday in May. The public is invited.

Those taking part will be C. H. Smith, Attorney George H. DeReef, August Brown, Frank Knowles, Nana Brown, Thomas Fox, Clarence Revells, George Brown, Letia Revells, Joe Wilson, Velva Johnson, William Thrill.

The Shakespearean in Chicago. The Shakespearean in Chicago series, to be presented by many youth actors of Chicago, will take place at the Blackstone on Monday night, Tuesday night, Wednesday afternoon and Wednesday night. Three plays will be given by three different organizations.

In an address welcoming the Daughters of the American Revolution gathered in Washington for their annual congress, President Wilson declared that the only excuse America ever can have for the assertion of her physical force is that she asserts it in behalf of humanity. The question of the republic—born to serve the rest of the world just as much as itself—had just said that the nation will have forgotten her traditions whenever she lights merely for herself under such circumstances as will show she has forgotten to fight for all mankind.

The president was enthusiastically applauded. When he was introduced by Mrs. William Cushing Story, president-general of the organization, the president stood and cheered and many of the women waved American flags.

COMMON CROW
(Corvus brachyrhynchos)

COMMON CROW
(Corvus brachyrhynchos)

Length, nineteen inches.

Range: Breeds throughout the United States and most of Canada; winters generally in the United States.

Habits and economic status: The general habits of the crow are universally known. Its ability to commit such misdeeds as pulling corn and stealing eggs and fruit and to get away unscathed is little short of marvelous. Much of the crow's success in life is due to co-operation, and the social instinct of the species has its highest expression in the winter flocks, which are sometimes frequented by hundreds of thousands of crows. From these roosts daily flights of many miles are made in search of food. Injury to sprouting corn is the most frequent complaint against this species, but by coating the seed grain with coal tar most of this damage may be prevented. Losses of poultry and eggs may be averted by proper housing and the judicious use of wire netting. The insect food of the crow includes wireworms, cutworms, white grubs, and grasshoppers, and during outbreaks of these insects the crow renders good service. The bird is also an efficient scavenger. But chiefly because of its destruction of beneficial wild birds and their eggs the crow must be classed as a criminal, and a reduction in its numbers in localities where it is seriously destructive is justifiable.

Curious Old English Law. It is interesting to recall in connection with railway accidents that only a few years back any instrument which by accident was the immediate cause of loss of human life became in English law "dead and"—that is, became forfeit to the crown, to be devoted to pious purposes. This law applied to locomotives, but in course of time coroners' juries, instead of claiming the forfeit, inflicted a fine. In the year 1838 a locomotive on the Liverpool and Manchester line which by exploding caused the death of its engineer and fireman was fined £20, while the following year another engine on the same line was fined £1,400.—London Mail.

Richmond Blessings. In the window of a colored restaurant on the North side, "Come in and get your fill of sausage and old Virginia corn cakes, with plenty of sure-enough sirup, and get a glimpse of the land where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
